Volunteer driven...

Would you like to help us help your community?

Are you a "people" person who likes to lend a hand?

If you enjoy being part of your local community and would like to assist aged people, people with disabilities, their carers and others who are transport disadvantaged get out and about – then Coast and Country Community Services (CCCSL) is the place for you.

Volunteers are integral to our Service and we always need caring car drivers, bus drivers, assistants and administrative helpers.

Volunteering is a great way to meet new people and really make a difference to your local community. We provide our clients with local and long distance transport to medical and social appointments. If you'd like to help, please call the CCCSL outlet nearest to you.

Free training and reimbursement

Our volunteers receive free, ongoing training in Work Health and Safety and other relevant work practices, such as assisting people who are vision-impaired, dementia awareness and cultural awareness, to ensure the best possible service for our Service Users.

Our volunteers also receive a uniform and are reimbursed for kilometres travelled to and from home.

Volunteering is great, but don't just take our word for it...

"My time as a volunteer driver is something money can't buy; not only are you helping disadvantaged people of all ages, you get a lot of satisfaction personally of getting to know clients and listening to them talk about whatever" – Lloyd from Weddin

"I have volunteered for 17 years. The Service is well organised with a friendly team. Our clients are a wonderful group of diverse characters – truly amazing"
– Michael from Shoalhaven

"I get enormous satisfaction from giving back to the community and I am honoured to work with staff who want to be there and provide a much needed service"
– Steve from Young

"Volunteer driving has given me something worthwhile to do. It has made me happy, my wife happy and I hope the clients happy"
– David from Boorowa

"I meet lots of different people who really appreciate our service. You hear lots of stories from years ago. I hope we keep on keeping on because I may need it myself one day"
